Experience:

Freelance UI/UX designer

Sep 2024 – Present

- Led end-to-end UX/UI projects for many international clients across + industries and 3 countries, translating complex business requirements into clear, scalable digital products that supported client goals and stakeholder decision-making.
- Conducted discovery sessions, stakeholder interviews, user research, market research, and competitive analysis to identify user needs, business requirements, feature gaps, and opportunities for improvement.
- Designed intuitive information architectures, user flows, responsive interfaces, and interactive prototypes in Figma, helping clients validate concepts and confidently approve final solutions before development.
- Built scalable design systems and reusable component libraries, improving consistency across products and providing developers with clear, implementation-ready design assets.
- Collaborated directly with clients and stakeholders throughout projects, presenting design decisions, incorporating feedback, and aligning product experiences with both user needs and business objectives.
- Designed and vibe-coded a personal portfolio website in HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, strengthening understanding of development constraints and improving collaboration between design and implementation.

UI/UX designer (Contract)

Dec 2025 – May 2026

At Lumens Studios, Egypt

- Worked as part of the core team, collaborating closely with clients onsite and in weekly planning and design sessions to take multiple web and mobile products from brief through ideation, prototyping, testing, iteration, and launch.
- Redesigned and shipped the Lumens Studios website, which became the studio's primary sales asset and directly supported winning client business in Saudi Arabia and the UAE
- Led client-facing design reviews directly, presenting rationale and turning feedback into iterations within the same week
- Paired with the development team through build: annotated specs, reusable component definitions and responsive breakpoints, then reviewed staging against design.
- Balanced competing timelines across multiple projects with weekly priority calls, delivering all milestones on schedule.
